SIX LYNCHED. RUINED CITIES FROM ST. LOUIS BANKS IS DEAD

The Frightful Fate of Negro Barn-Burners in Tennessee.

Taken From the Sheriff and Shot to Death by a Mob.

THE DEED OF CITIZENS EXCITED BY CONSTANT INGENUITY.

The Prisoners Chained Together When the Execution Occurred—Overturns on the Road While Being Carried in a Wagon to Millington—Escape of the Lynchers in the Darkness.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Sept. 1.—News comes this morning of the lynching of six negroes in the northern part of the county, two miles north of Millington, a village on the Cheasepeake & Ohio Railroad.

For a year or more the people of that part of the country have been kept in a continual state of excitement by acts of banditry. Barns and dwellings have been burned, and recently the bandits on the Millington Fair Grounds were destroyed. Suspicion pointed to Dan Hawkins, Robert Haynes, Warner Williams, Ed Bell, John Hayes and Graham White, and yesterday they were arrested near Kerrville, in the western part of the county by Deputy Sheriff Richardson.

Later in the day the deputy started with his prisoners in a wagon for Millington, where they were to have a preliminary examination before a magistrate. The six negroes were chained together.

About midnight when the party was nearing Millington it was stopped by a mob of fifty men armed with shotguns, who killed all the prisoners, and then, remounting their horses, which were tied near by, rode away in the darkness. The lynchers were not masked, but the officer being new to that section of the country, recognized none of them.

An inquest was held on the bodies this morning, and they were, which included two negroes, found to be the prisoners who had come to be death in the manner stated, "at the hands of persons unknown."

The new sheriff of the county, who enters upon his office to-day, will take the matter in hand promptly and vigorously.

HALTED IN THE ROAD.

Dan Hawkins was arrested a year ago with several others charged with the burning of barns and residences in the Kerrville neighborhood. They were brought to trial and two of them sentenced to terms in the penitentiary. Dan Hawkins, however, was implicated Hawkins as the leader of the band of firebugs. Hawkins got a new trial, however, and after spending some months in jail, was released on a writ of habeas corpus. Since that time the burnings have recommenced, and the Millington neighborhood, as well as Kerrville, have suffered repeated attacks. Hawkins has attempted to find out the incendiaries, and with the aid of a negro spotter he at length got evidence that resulted in the arrest of the other five negroes, who were lynched. About nightfall yesterday the officers secured a two-horse wagon and a driver, and took it to the scene of the crime. It cost him $100 to get it to the vehicle handcuffed and chained together and started for Millington. As they reached the town, two men stepped out from the bushes in the woods by the roadside called out: "Don't try to cross them. The bridge is down; come this way."

The horses suffered from the financial stand-point was the Southern Pacific, and reports are at variance as to the actual damages sustained by that company.

FOUR MILES OF TRACK SUBMERGED.

It is known, however, that forty miles or more of track under water, but whether it is all completely washed out will not be known until the water recedes.

Three iron bridges are gone, and the total loss of the company on account of the flood is estimated at $1,000,000 or more.

At is activity is at the Southern Pacific depot here. Material is arriving every hour from the East on route to the scene of disaster, and the wires were kept hot from that point ordering construction material. Early yesterday morning General Sup't Van Vleck, Chief Engineer Rushing and Superintendent of Buildings and Bridges Culbert arrived in the city on a special train and proceeded to the other side directing the work from that end. Working at both ends of the line the company expects to have the road in a temporary condition to permit of traffic in a few days. About 600 convicts and a large number of other laborers are at work building the temporary road.

NOW THE DEATH VOLLEY.

Then Atchison was ordered to get down, and was placed under guard. The negro prisoners, divining the purpose of the unknown mob, attempted to leap from the wagon. A volley rang out from forty to fifty rifles, and the fall was bounded by a dozen of the mob leaped into the wagon and threw them out. Volley after volley was poured in on the struggling men, and the two men who had been still were still. Hawkins' head was almost shot from his shoulders and was torn to pieces. The mob, after making sure that all six were dead, mounted and rode away. Atchison then mounted one of the mules and headed to Justice Hill, who at one time was away, and notified him of the slaughter. The Justice at once made ready to go to the spot, and was accompanied by a posse of five men, composed of five white men and two negroes, who rendered a verdict as above stated.

CAUSING TROUBLE.

The Tweedmouth Contribution to the Irish Parliamentary Fund.

LONDON, Sept. 1.—The Gladstone-Tweedmouth contribution of £100 each to the Irish Parliamentary fund is causing a sensation in all political parties. Baron Tweedmouth in forwarding his contribution from Scotland, wrote to Mr. Justice McCullough, Chairman of the Irish Parliamentary party, stating that he had received a note from Mr. Gladstone, enclosing a check for £100 to be forwarded to the Home Office, and that in view of the fact that none of the money which is said to be pouring into the Irish coffers is going to the evicted tenants.

The Gladstone-Tweedmouth contribution, on these contributions, says that a double effect will be felt from this subsidy. It will keep the evicted tenants from becoming more numerous and tenants will become more exasperated than ever. The Gladstone also says:

"If Mr. Gladstone and Sir Edward Tweedmouth are to be believed, without consulting the Premier or Sir William Harcourt, it seems of springing a mine upon them."

A DUBLIN PRESS OPINION.

DUBLIN, Sept. 1.—The Evening Herald (Parl. Edition) in addition to its statement concerning on the donation of £100 each to the Irish Parliamentary fund, that neither Keogh nor Sadler sold themselves so cheaply as the Parnellites did, and that the Gladstone-Tweedmouth money is to be sent to Ireland and divided among the Whig members representing 250,000 persons for each of them."

The New Vice-Consul at London.

BOSTON, Mass., Sept. 1.—It has just been made known in this city that John J. Collins, Legate of Count-General Patrick A. Lynch, has accepted the appointment of Vice-Consul at London.

Mark the Track of the Southern Texas Deluge.

The Exact Number of Lives Lost Not Yet Ascertained.

IT IS FEARED THAT THE LIST WILL BE APPALLING.

Uvalde, Dhamis and Other Towns Completely Submerged and Hundreds of Buildings Washed Away—Forty Miles of Railway Track Under Water—Scenes of Devastation in the Deluged Valleys—May Have Been Caused by an Earthquake.

SAVANNAH, Sept. 1.—The scene of desolation and devastation in the flooded district west of here for a distance of 10 miles east and west and extending south from the Southern Pacific Railroad tracks for a distance of 200 miles to the Rio Grande is terrible to look upon.

Thousands and thousands of acres of pasture and farm land is still under water. It is estimated that the damage to crops in the valley of the Leon River will reach one-half million dollars, while in the valley of the Sabinal and Saco there is fully as heavy loss. Thousands of head of live stock, including cattle, horses and sheep, were caught in the torrent, and swept to their destruction.

Up to 12 o'clock last night all telegraphic reports that were received here by the Southern Pacific officers and the press came by El Paso, Pueblo and Kansas City, the wires being down between here and Uvalde, Dhamis and other flooded towns. The wire was restored last night, however, and direct information from the scene of destruction is being received here this morning.

LIST OF LOST.

The late reports are more alarming than the earlier ones. It is still a matter of uncertainty as to the number of lives lost, but additions to the list of drowned are coming in. At Dhamis, a place of about 200 population, two children were swept into the rushing waters and drowned.

There have been additions to the number drowned in Uvalde, six persons being the latest. All these bodies have been recovered and were buried yesterday. Nothing has yet been heard from the settlement of seventy-five families below Uvalde, and grave fears are entertained that many, if not all, were drowned. Their escape from the flood would be miraculous, as they were directly in its path and on ground much lower than the flooded district of Uvalde.

The town of Batesville, having a population of a few hundred, was entirely submerged, and there was a heavy loss of property, but no lives are reported lost at that place as yet.

There are several other towns away from railway and telegraphic communication, which are known to be in the flooded districts, but as the waters prevent all overland communication with them, nothing has been heard from them.

The great sufferer from the financial stand-point was the Southern Pacific, and reports are at variance as to the actual damages sustained by that company.

NONE OF YOUR BUSINESS.

"None of your business," was the reply. "Throw up your hands."

The officer obeyed.

THE BLOOD FLOWED

Mrs. Mary E. Whitman Accused of Bravely Beating Her Little Daughter.

Mrs. Mary E. Whitman of 2780 Hermitage avenue was arraigned before Judge Morris this morning on the charge of disturbing the peace. The real charge was cruel treatment of her 11-year-old daughter, Rosa. The child brought into court still suffering from the beating she is said to have received at the hands of the mother and still crying bitterly. Last night it is said that her mother, while intoxicated at the little Rosa in the house with a heavy case, beat her severely and until blood flowed from several wounds inflicted on her body. The child's cries for help attracted the attention of the neighbors and it is charged that it was not until Rosa rushed out of the house and into the arms of one of the neighbors that the mother desisted in the assault. It is said that the mother went so far as to follow the child into the street, beating her with a heavy stick and using all her strength in inflicting the blows.

The child was taken care of afterward by her father, and when the boy came home from school was smeared with blood from wounds. The master was reported to the police and Officer Niles of the Second District was arrested. Mrs. Whitman, when she came up to trial to-day, Judge Morris said that the woman had not disturbed the peace, but that she should be taken in charge by the Society for the Protection of Cruelty to Children. The defendant was discharged. The case with which the punishment is said to have been inflicted and the blood stains of the child were exhibited as evidence.

After her discharge, Officer Niles followed Mrs. Whitman out of court, and then arrested her, a warrant charging her with assault and battery was sworn out by the daughter.

THE KING OF SIAM.

Reports That There Is No Truth in the Story of His Death.

London, Sept. 1.—The Telegraph to-day publishes a long letter from Bangkok, Siam, explaining the recent rumors which have reached the United States by steamship which arrived at Victoria from Hong Kong, that the King of Siam was dead. Bangkok, the writer says, is in a fever of excitement on account of the repeated announcements that the King was dead. Many people believe that the news was sent out in order to test the public opinion and that the real facts in the case have been withheld for state reasons. The man who sent the letter to the Telegraph is a member of the British diplomatic corps. It is added, share the general ignorance on the subject and many of the members of the British Minister, it appears, has requested that another man be sent from Hong Kong in view of the alarmist rumors.

The child was taken care of afterward by his father, and when the boy came home from school was smeared with blood from wounds. The master was reported to the police and Officer Niles of the Second District was arrested. Mrs. Whitman, when she came up to trial to-day, Judge Morris said that the woman had not disturbed the peace, but that she should be taken in charge by the Society for the Protection of Cruelty to Children. The defendant was discharged. The case with which the punishment is said to have been inflicted and the blood stains of the child were exhibited as evidence.

After her discharge, Officer Niles followed Mrs. Whitman out of court, and then arrested her, a warrant charging her with assault and battery was sworn out by the daughter.
